

Linda Pandolph, Executive Producer - compliments of IMDB and Last Man Film Group, LLC

Born in Ft. Huachuca, AZ on September 14, 1960, the 4th of five children to an Army enlisted man Bobby Lee Benefield and his homemaker wife (Gladys Elaine Cochran), Linda has always had a passion for film. Linda spent the first several months of her life sleeping in a suitcase or a drawer, as her older sister (Jeri) was only 15 months old at the time of her birth and not yet ready to leave the crib.

Linda Pandolph is an excellent producer and a mediocre actress, known for Last Man Club (2016) and The Last Mark (2012).

Linda's creative history began with writing and acting while in Elementary school. She won a writing contest in the third grade in Georgia and was awarded a candy bar as the prize.

Junior High led to the lead in the school play, where she almost received her first kiss.

High school found Linda more attracted more to dancing, music and student government activities where she was an officer on the drill team, Senior Class Treasurer and a Member of National Honor Society (1974-1978) at Lawton High School. She graduated number 45 in a class of 648 students and went on to attend Oklahoma State University where her initial declared major was pre-med.

She married to Chad L. Boss 1980-1981

Marriage to her second husband, Glen Patrick Cook lasted from 1983-1993 – The union produced two children – Emily Joan Cook (1985) and Chase Patrick Cook (1988).

Linda is married to Brian Patrick Pandolph since 2001–. They married after an 11 year courtship. The can't say enough about "test driving" the relationship before pledging a life together. Brian has two Children, Christie Nicole Pandolph Johnson (1983) and Amanda Lynn Pandolph Olson (1985).

The couple has 5 grandchildren – Aubreigh Johnson (1999) Twin girls Caitlyn Bailey Pandolph and Corleigh Blair Pandolph (2002) Chandler Carl Johnson (2006) and Ainsleigh Kay Olsen(2006)
